Loogo Labs

Free workbook · 2026 edition

The 90-Day Marketing Game Plan.

Stop guessing what to post, where to spend and what's working. One offer, one channel, thirteen weeks, and a number you can watch go up.

THIS PLAN BELONGS TO

DAY 1 STARTS ON

READ THIS FIRST

You don't have a marketing problem. You have a plan problem.

You're busy running the business. Marketing gets whatever's left: a post when you remember, a boost when it's slow, a new tool someone swore by. It feels like effort. It rarely feels like progress. If any of these sound familiar, this workbook is for you.

1 You can't say which channel brings in customers.
Leads show up, or they don't, and you're never quite sure why.

2 You post because you feel like you should.
Content goes out without an offer behind it, so likes never turn into calls.

3 Your budget and your strategy change every month.
Nothing runs long enough to work, so nothing gets a fair shot.

414%

Marketers who document their strategy are 414% more likely to report success than those who don't. Writing it down is the advantage, and most small businesses never do it.

Source: CoSchedule, State of Marketing Strategy Report, 2022

By day 90, you'll have:

- An offer anyone understands in five seconds
- A lead count you track, not guess
- Reviews and referrals coming in on purpose
- One channel you show up on every single week
- No lead waiting more than a day for a reply
- Proof of what works, and your next 90 days

HOW THIS WORKS

Three phases. Thirteen weeks. One hour of planning a week.

Print this, or fill it in on screen. Do the pages in order. Don't skip ahead to ads: the first 30 days are what make the last 30 pay off.

DAYS 1–30

Foundation

Get clear and get measurable. Offer, profiles, tracking, one channel.

DAYS 31–60

Build

Turn attention into leads. Something to say yes to, weekly content, fast replies.

DAYS 61–90

Grow

Double down on what works. Cut the rest, test a small ad budget.

01

Answer the five questions

Page 4. Twenty minutes, before day 1. Every decision after this gets easier.

02

Write your offer and pick your channel

Page 5. One sentence, one place. This is what the next 90 days point to.

03

Work the weeks, log the number

Pages 6–10. Tick the boxes, fill in the scorecard every Friday.

The weekly rhythm

Monday · 30 min
Plan the week. Pick this week's boxes from your phase page.

Tue – Thu
Create, publish and reach out. This is where the work happens.

Friday · 30 min
Log your number on the scorecard. Follow up on every open lead.

MY COMMITMENT

For the next 13 weeks, I'll give my marketing one focused hour of planning every week, stick with one offer and one channel, and log my number every Friday. I'm allowed to change tactics every 30 days, not every week.

SIGNED _____ DATE _____

Answer five questions. Write the answers down.

1 Who is your best customer?

Not everyone who could buy. The one who buys most, pays on time and sends friends.

2 What problem do you solve for them?

Write it the way they'd say it to a friend, not the way you'd put it on a brochure.

3 What is your one offer for the next 90 days?

One thing people can say yes to. Everything you publish points here.

4 Where does that customer already spend time?

A platform, a search, a community, a local spot. You'll pick one on the next page.

5 What number tells you it's working?

Leads, booked calls or sales per week. Pick one and write down today's number.

MY NUMBER

TODAY IT IS

Your offer in one sentence. Your channel in one word.

If people can't repeat your offer back to you, they can't buy it. Fill in the blanks, then read it out loud. If it takes a breath in the middle, cut words.

I help _____ (WHO · YOUR BEST CUSTOMER) get _____ (THE RESULT THEY WANT) without _____ (THE THING THEY HATE OR FEAR). Start with _____ (YOUR FIRST STEP · FREE OR PAID).

Example: "I help busy homeowners in Orlando get a spotless kitchen remodel without months of mess. Start with a free in-home quote."

Pick one channel for 90 days

Tick the one where your best customer already spends time, not the one that's trending. You can add a second channel on day 91.

- ☐ Google Business Profile
- ☐ Instagram
- ☐ Facebook (page or groups)
- ☐ TikTok
- ☐ LinkedIn
- ☐ YouTube
- ☐ Email to past customers
- ☐ Local events and partners
- ☐ Other: _____

Why this channel?

How often can I really show up?

> Pick a rhythm you can keep on your worst week, not your best one. Two posts a week for 13 weeks beats seven posts a week for two.

PHASE 1 OF 3

Foundation

Days 1–30 · Weeks 1–4

GOAL Get clear and get measurable, so every effort after this counts.

WEEK 1

Your offer

- [ ] Finish pages 4 and 5: the five questions, the offer sentence and your channel.
- [ ] Ask three customers why they chose you. Write their exact words down.
- [ ] Write today's number on the scorecard (page 9).

WEEK 2

Get found

- [ ] Update your Google Business Profile: hours, photos, services, and your offer.
- [ ] Rewrite every bio (website, Instagram, Facebook) to say the same offer.
- [ ] Make sure each one points to one next step: call, book or message.

WEEK 3

Track it

- [ ] Set up one place to log leads: a simple sheet or a CRM.
- [ ] Add "How did you hear about us?" to every form and first call.
- [ ] Use a tagged link for each channel so you can see where clicks come from.

WEEK 4

Start the rhythm

- [ ] Batch your first two weeks of content in one sitting.
- [ ] Publish on your channel on the days you committed to.
- [ ] Friday: log your number and note what surprised you.

DONE WHEN Anyone can understand your offer in five seconds, reach you in one click, and you can count every lead.

> Stuck on the offer? That's the most common place people stall, and the fastest thing we fix on a free strategy call. See page 12.

NOTES AND WINS THIS PHASE

PHASE 2 OF 3

Build

Days 31–60 · Weeks 5–8

GOAL Turn attention into leads, and make sure none of them slip away.

WEEK 5

Something to say yes to

- [ ] Create an easy first step: a free consult, a checklist, a quote or a sample.
- [ ] Put it at the top of your profile and at the end of every post.

WEEK 6

Never leave a lead waiting

- [ ] Set an automatic first reply on your forms, DMs and missed calls.
- [ ] Block 15 minutes a day to answer every lead personally, the same day.

WEEK 7

Proof

- [ ] Ask every happy customer for a review, with a direct link that makes it one tap.
- [ ] Turn your best review or result into this week's posts.

WEEK 8

Referrals

- [ ] Ask your five best customers who else they know who needs you.
- [ ] Reach out to one local business that serves the same customer and swap referrals.

DONE WHEN Leads arrive every week from your channel and none wait more than a day for a reply.

> The weekly content mix is on page 8. Use it every Monday so you're never staring at a blank screen.

NOTES AND WINS THIS PHASE

PLANNER · USE EVERY MONDAY

Never stare at a blank screen again.

Every week, mix three kinds of posts. Proof builds trust, how-to builds attention, and the offer gives people a reason to act today.

40%
Proof

Reviews, before-and-afters, results, a customer's own words, behind the scenes.

40%
How-to

Answer the questions customers ask you. One tip, one mistake to avoid, one myth.

20%
Offer

Your one offer, plainly. Who it's for, what they get, how to start, and why now.

This month's content plan

WEEK	MON	TUE	WED	THU	FRI
1
2
3
4

> Ideas when you're stuck: the question you answered three times this week · a mistake you see customers make · what a typical day looks like · a customer's result in their own words · "here's what happens when you book with us."

SCORECARD · FILL IN EVERY FRIDAY

What gets measured gets better.

Two minutes a week. By week 13 this page tells you exactly where your customers come from and what to do next.

WEEK	POSTS / ACTIONS	LEADS	CALLS OR QUOTES	SALES	TOP LEAD SOURCE	WHAT I LEARNED
FOUNDATION
1
2
3
4
BUILD
5
6
7
8
GROW
9
10
11
12
13

PHASE 3 OF 3

Grow

Days 61–90 · Weeks 9–13

GOAL Double down on what works, and stop paying for what doesn't.

WEEK 9

Read the numbers

- [ ] Look at your scorecard: which posts, pages and sources brought leads who actually bought?
- [ ] Circle your top three. Cross out anything that brought nothing in eight weeks.

WEEK 10

Cut and move

- [ ] Stop the activities you crossed out. Move that time to the ones you circled.
- [ ] Turn your best-performing post into three new versions.

WEEK 11

Test a small ad budget

- [ ] Put a small, fixed budget behind your best message, aimed at your best customer.
- [ ] Send ad clicks to one page with one next step. Track leads from it separately.

WEEK 12

Follow up

- [ ] Contact every lead from the last 90 days who didn't buy. Ask, don't pitch.
- [ ] Email past customers with a reason to come back.

WEEK 13

Plan the next 90

- [ ] Complete the day-90 review on page 11.
- [ ] Set your next number, and decide whether you're ready for a second channel.

DONE WHEN You know what a lead costs you and which channel to grow next.

NOTES AND WINS THIS PHASE

DAY 90 · REVIEW

Keep it. Cut it. Double it.

Lay your scorecard next to this page. Be honest: the point isn't to feel good about the last 90 days, it's to make the next 90 better.

MY NUMBER ON DAY 1

MY NUMBER ON DAY 90

BEST LEAD SOURCE

Keep

What brought paying customers?

Cut

What took time and brought nothing?

Double

Where does the next hour or dollar go?

My next 90 days

My offer stays, or changes to:

My next number to beat:

WANT IT DONE WITH YOU?

This workbook is the framework. Let's build yours.

Most business owners know what to do. The hard part is deciding what to do for their business, and sticking with it. On a free strategy call, we fill in this plan with you.

1 We sharpen your offer
Your one sentence, rewritten until customers can repeat it back.

2 We pick your channel
Based on where your best customer actually spends time, not what's trending.

3 We plan your first 30 days
The exact moves for week 1 to week 4, in order, built around your schedule.

4 We show you what to cut
Where your time or money is leaking today, so you start lighter.

Book my free strategy call →

www.loogolabs.com/game-plan

FREE · NO CONTRACT · NO PRESSURE · ENGLISH OR SPANISH

David Selva · Founder, Loogo Labs LLC
Marketing consultant. We plan your marketing, then we build it.

david@loogolabs.com
(407) 748-9150
www.loogolabs.com